LONDON, June 12.—American troops captured Carentan, eastern anchor of the German line across the Cherbourg peninsula today at 8:30 a.m. after all-night fighting in the streets, and British troops drove forward nine miles to the east of Caen in a thrust to encircle that city, key rail junction and western hinge of the enemy defences.

Henry T. Gorrell, British United Press correspondent with the Americans in Normandy, reported the fall of Carentan in a dispatch written on high ground overlooking the town at 9 a.m.

Gorrell reported that the German survivors at Carentan fled southward through a tiny and fast-closing gap as the American forces were about to forge a ring around them while battering through the town itself.

Carentan fell about 12 hours after two captured German paratroopers carrying a white flag and an American lieutenant with a red flag entered the town with a surrender ultimatum.

The German garrison commander refused to surrender on the grounds that he lacked sufficient authority. Supreme headquarters announced that the beachhead now extended for 40 miles, the deepest penetration reaching 18 miles where American troops had seized all of the forces of Coty and the German communications hub immediately south of the Cherbourg peninsula.

The situation in Normandy was described officially as "a little better than satisfactory" as the Allied armies rounded out the first week of the invasion campaign with steady advances.

A spokesman at supreme headquarters revealed that American troops had by-passed Montebourg, 10 miles southeast of Cherbourg, and were swinging up the peninsula.

Two Youths Drown

Over the Week-End

Drownings took the lives of two Alberta youths over the week-end according to information reaching "Edmonton" headquarters in Edmonton Monday.

The dead are nine-year-old Nick Hill and 11-year-old Walter Henderson, both of whom were drowned in a slough west of Thibault, Saturday afternoon, and Walter Henderson, who was recovered from the river about 8 p.m. Sunday.

According to word received here, the younger lad was believed to have been chasing wild ducks in the slough. He drowned in about four feet of water.

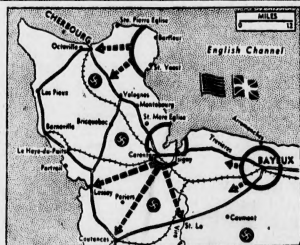

The other boy was the son of Mrs. Henderson. He is said to have been swimming Sunday afternoon, alone.

Finding the boy's clothes on the river bank after a search, the mother notified police, who recovered the body in a short distance.

No inquests will be held.

Channel Weather

DOVER, England, June 12.—(CP)—A day over the channel was cloudless today. Visibility was good and the surface of the sea was barely ruffled by a light westerly wind.

Map shows where American forces have captured St. Mer Eglise and cut the east coast railroad and highway to Cherbourg at several places, halting Nazi traffic on their main lifelines to the great port. Other German forces reported advancing from Carentan today to join with airborne troops believed to be centred around Caen. The Germans today admitted the evacuation of Carentan, western hinge of their Normandy defense line.

Report Indicates Main Body
Of Nazis Pulled Out of Caen

By ROGER GREENE

WITH ALLIED FORCES IN FRANCE, June 11.—(Delayed).—(AP)—British and Canadian troops in this blazing northern sector pressed forward to within a few miles of Caen today after blasting the Germans out of town late Friday.

(This field dispatch did not enlarge upon this point. London dispatches said there was no suggestion here that Caen was yet in Allied hands, but the field report was taken as indicating that the high-ranking Allied flanking thrust by the British and Canadians was being rubbed up to the point of a full-scale assault on the city.)

Marshal von Rundstedt is feverishly attempting to throw forward reserves from as far distant as Paris to combat the deepening Allied beachhead. It was reported at advanced Allied field headquarters.

Armadas of Allied planes churned the skies over the beachhead, dropping bombs and incendiaries, and along one beach a column of German tanks was being rubbed up to the point of a full-scale assault on the city.

A powerful encircling sweep is developing around Caen with Allied tanks driving along both flanks.

The atmosphere at headquarters was one of much activity. Marshal von Rundstedt's failure to unhook a smashing counter-attack in the first few days was believed here to have been a result of his being out-manned by Gen. Eisenhower's strategy.

GERMANS POOLED
The whole German defense structure apparently was based on the conviction that the Allies would have to attempt to capture the big port such as Cherbourg or Le Havre.

The Allies landed at a comparatively isolated area and pushed supplies through shallow draft beaches, leaving von Rundstedt sitting tight in his powerfully defended ports.

Allied air forces are methodically paralyzing Nazi communications.

Asked to Report
Address Changes

OTTAWA, June 12.—(CP)—Deputy minister of defense has requested that the kin of soldiers in the Canadian forces overseas notify the director of army records of any change of address.

The statement said many Canadians leave their permanent residences for the summer months and return without leaving forwarding addresses. This causes difficulty for the army in reaching the relatives of soldiers.

Panicky Race to Escape

Nazi 14th Army in Italy

Now "Has Ceased to Exist"

NAPLES, June 12.—The Allied 5th Army raced almost unopposed over the coastal and mountain highways 51 to 70 miles above Rome today and a head-counted 150,000 veteran troops, "has ceased to exist" as a fighting force.

All semblance of organized resistance vanished in the path of the 5th Army columns and official reports said the German 14th Army, which had been a chaotic rout, isolated bands of Germans were fleeing on foot and in horse-drawn farm carts, battling each other in the path for trucks and cars in a deadly race to escape.

A few enemy rear guards, never more than one or two companies strong, attempted vainly to stem the Allied advance, but they were annihilated by Allied tank crews and machine gunners.

10TH ARMY FLEEING
Simultaneously, British 8th Army columns drove the battered German 10th Army in headlong retreat on a broad front extending from the east bank of the Tiber 30 miles above Rome to the mouth of the Pescara river, on the Adriatic coast.

In an address at the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Mr. Goddard, who is also controller of the federal government's department, said stock market returns in the past few days were a result of the war.

All Candidates Vie For Sask. Women's Vote

Progressive Conservatives have favored longer the age at which persons become eligible to pay, with stronger methods to pay, with juvenile delinquency, increased aid to needy mothers and the provision of health services for all regardless of income.

WOMEN CANDIDATES
Only two women are candidates—Mrs. Gladys Strum, C.C.F., who opposes Premier W. A. Patterson, the Liberal leader, in his home constituency of Cammington, and Mrs. B. Trew, also C.C.F., who is a candidate at Maple Creek.

Officials said a heavy vote was expected on June 15, but there was every prospect the total poll would be smaller than in the federal election of 1940, when, with 48,931 names on the voters' list, 80,276 ballots were cast. Since then it has been estimated that more than 100,000 persons have left the province, some 70,000 to enter the forces and others to war industry.

HEALTH BILL DOESN'T EXIST! SAYS COLDWELL

MOOSE JAW, June 12 (CP)—J. Coldwell, C.C.F. provincial leader, said in a Saskatchewan provincial election campaign ad issued Saturday night that "A federal government health bill which does not exist is a serious error or a political swindle of the first magnitude."

Coldwell said improved health services were required in Saskatchewan and that the "national health talk" of a health bill proposed by the federal Liberal administration.

NO BILL IN HOUSE

"There is no health bill in Ottawa," said Mr. Coldwell. A delegation interested in health legislation had recently gone to Ottawa with a copy of a federal health bill which bore the notation that it had been given first reading in the House of Commons in March. Mr. Coldwell said he asked Premier Minister Mackenzie King if it indeed a bill and the minister said it was not. Some of his officials had gathered information and felt it should be put in the form of a bill. Somehow the news about it had gone all over the country.

"The strange thing is that it got across the country before the Saskatchewan election, and Saskatchewan has passed an act which allows it to come under a bill which doesn't exist," said Mr. Coldwell.

He said Harold Winn, British Columbia C.C.F. leader who is speaking in the Saskatchewan campaign, had been criticized for a statement in Calgary in answering questions on whether the C.C.F. could put its policy into effect without the use of force.

USE FORCES OF LAW

Mr. Coldwell said that Mr. Winn had set forth that if a democratically elected government had forced resistance to its program being carried out, it would use the forces of law and order. The police and army would be used to put down rebellion.

"What government wouldn't do that?" asked Mr. Coldwell. The government led by H. R. H. Bennett had used force against a "group of boys" in 1932 at Regina when relief marchers, travelling across Canada on night trains, were halted. The Liberal government at Ottawa had sent police to keep order at a Shaganappi, Que., strike about the time Mr. Winn spoke in Calgary.

Speaking in support of Mayor J. W. Corns and Ald. D. H. R. Hemmings, C.C.F. provincial candidates in Moose Jaw riding, Mr. Coldwell said a C.C.F. government would "wipe out" the caveats placed against the property of persons receiving old-age pensions.

"The Liberal party record is rotten; the Tory party record is rotten," he continued, "and the Tories are being destroyed, and the souls-mates of Hitler in Canada."

Answering a question, Mr. Coldwell said a bill introduced in the Commons by Angus Maclean, (C.C.F.-Vancouver East) making it an offense to stir up the nation's peace by stirring up religious or race hatred had been drafted "because in certain parts of Canada there was a rising anti-Semitic movement, with Jewish people beaten up, their property destroyed and signs set up saying no Jews would be admitted."

DRAW WOMEN'S ATTENTION

Anti-Semitism was the "German of Hitlerism" and the bill was presented to attract attention of the people to the situation. The C.C.F. knew it would not pass there was no opportunity to debate private members' bills. It was not designed to take away anyone's freedom.

PREMIER PATTERSON PLANS SEVEN MEETINGS

REGINA, June 12 (CP)—Premier W. A. Patterson left late last night for his own constituency of Cammington in southwestern Saskatchewan to wind up his Saskatchevan election campaign with a series of seven meetings. Though he would make no prediction on the outcome of the June 15 voting, Mr. Patterson was confident.

In an address at Langenburg Saturday in support of Don McKenzie, Liberal nominee for Saltcoats, the Premier said "I don't want to live in Saskatchewan unless farmers and business people can get a reasonable profit for their activities and investment."

WON'T WASTE FUNDS

Mr. Patterson said his government would not waste public funds on drilling for gas, oil or other resources, as the C.C.F.-had advocated. When private industry succeeded in locating natural resources the government, beset by royalists, would be forced to pay royalties.

The major issue before the voters was whether the people wanted to keep on running their own affairs or wanted to turn over their business to a government that would run everything.

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask., June 12 (CP)—Rupert D. Ramsay, Saskatchewan Progressive Conservative leader, said in a Saskatchewan election address here Saturday night that the present training opportunities for farmers were far from adequate.

There must be more schools, more courses offered at cost by the state, and there should be a farm bureau set up through which views of agriculture might be brought to the legislature, he said. "Any policy for Saskatchewan must be built on an agricultural foundation."

SPEAKS FOR AIRMAN

Speaking in support of Wing Commander R. W. (Rusty) McNeil, Progressive Conservative, and A. L. Lee, C.C.F. Mr. Ramsay said the Liberal government for not trying larger school units along a plan similar to Alberta's was making a mistake.

He advocated a higher standard of education at lower cost by use of the last school year of the province. "Our major quarrel with the Liberal government in Saskatchewan is that it is controlled by a machine which distributes patronage and whose hand can be seen in every town, village and hamlet in the province."

DIEFENBAKER CALLS FOR SECURITY WITH FREEDOM

WATROUS, Sask., June 12 (CP)—John G. Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member of parliament for Lake Centre, in a Saskatchewan election campaign address here Saturday said: "We need security, but let us have security without sacrifice of our freedom."

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke in support of Hugh Smith, Progressive Conservative candidate in Watrous constituency. He charged there were many inconsistencies in argument by the C.C.F. He said the "Socialist party" changed its policy in every town in each province.

ONE FARMER ELECTED

In Ontario only one farmer had been elected as a C.C.F. representative, the rest being elected in the urban industrial ridings. C.C.F. leaders have stated their policy was similar to that of the British Labor party, said Mr. Diefenbaker. In May, 1942, the British Labor party had advocated national ownership of agricultural lands, yet in Saskatchewan the C.C.F. would never take the land away from farmers.

Mr. Diefenbaker agreed with the C.C.F. that "We need certain measures of social security but we can't have social security without paying for it." He said the policy of the C.C.F. seemed to be one of everything for nothing.

ESTEVAN, Sask., June 12 (CP)—Rev. T. C. Douglas, Saskatchewan C.C.F. leader, Saturday night predicted next Thursday's Saskatchewan general election would be "the greatest landslide in the history of Saskatchewan."

French Patriots Seize Strategic Points in South

IRUN, Spain, June 12 (AP)—French Partisans have occupied strategic centres in the cities of Toulouse, Limoges and Tarbes in Southern France and have shot the prefects of police, mayors and other collaborationist authorities in all three cities, direct dispatches reaching here said yesterday. The dispatches did not make clear whether the actions constituted a general uprising, saying only that the important points in the three cities, as well as in the regions surrounding them were occupied by the Partisans.

HINT MAJOR UPRISING

A major uprising by French patriots, whether the people wanted to keep on running their own affairs or wanted to turn over their business to a government that would run everything.

REFERS TO DEPRESSION

"Stop and remember what you went through under this system for 10 years prior to the war. Do they think we have forgotten when our young people finished school and found the fringe train went to Bennett's (Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former prime minister) relief camp at Dandridge for 20 cents a day, the same as we are paying our prisoners of war?"

"They say things are going to be different when our boys come back this time," he said. "Well, I'm not a prophet, but I'm a realist. The Liberal campaign in August, 1939, when Mackenzie King was elected."

"To the boys returning after the last war they were given grants to each man re-establishment grants, educational, vocational and technical training, life insurance, policy and full pay and allowance for himself and his family. He was given such time as he was placed in gainful employment."

The men who came back from the last war were treated like princes compared to the way we are treating the men coming back today."

REGINA, June 12 (CP)—A total of 153 candidates have been nominated for the Saskatchewan general election June 15, including three who entered the contest Saturday in the western constituency of Cumberland where voting has been deferred to June 24.

In Cumberland the candidates are: D. A. Hall, Liberal; R. O. St. Denis, Progressive Conservative, and A. L. Lee, C.C.F. Mr. Hall represented the constituency in the last legislature.

Cumberland is the only deferred election, voters in the other 48 provincial ridings will cast their ballots next Thursday. The Liberals have 51 candidates; Progressive Conservatives 40; C.C.F. 52; other parties 13. Fifty-two members are to be elected, including two each in the dual-member riding of Regina, Saskatchewan and Moose Jaw.

Real Welcome Given Allies By This Nazi

WITH CANADIAN FORCES IN FRANCE, June 12 (CP)—The Germans have abandoned Flomph in the hands of the Allies.

(Note.—There's no use trying to confirm that spelling. In the first place the two F's should be back to back. And, anyway, Flomph is not a town, but a big, friendly, German police dog.)

Flomph is one of those big dogs the Germans had trained to work in the enemy army. But apparently Flomph was not happy in the service or else he was not a rabid Nazi.

For when the Germans abandoned a headquarters in this sector, Flomph was left behind in a paddock, deserted and forlorn, until the arrival of a contingent of Canadian war correspondents.

Flomph, like most traitors, made a great fuss over the new occupants and immediately himself into adoption by Bill Stewart, Canadian Press war correspondent, who speaks basic dog in three languages.

After howling allegiance to the new official command, the dog was formally adopted and christened Flomph, one of Cartoonist Stewart's characters who is really a human grinning, a well-meaning, but a little awkward.

48,000 Volunteers Needed This Year

OTTAWA, June 12 (CP)—Brig. James Mee, deputy adjutant general in charge of recruiting, said in an address carried over a national radio that the call to go for fear, laziness or sheer selfishness decrease our contempt, but still have the opportunity to redeem them.

Between these groups are the thousands who are "ready to serve and have got what it takes, but have not yet seen where their duty lies."

Brig. Mee said that if Canadian men and women can be brought to regard themselves as national resources for the "great cause ever served," problems of manpower and production will slip into the past and "we shall get our volunteers."

Men and women who through no fault of their own cannot "join up" deserve sympathy, not censure. Those individuals who "flagrantly repudiate the call to go for fear, laziness or sheer selfishness decrease our contempt, but still have the opportunity to redeem them."

Some day soon, we hope; war-time restrictions will be over and you can buy all you want.

When the Canadian Nickel industry was faced with the loss of ninety per cent of its markets at the close of the first World War, the men who managed this industry set themselves resolutely to the task of finding new peacetime markets for Canadian Nickel.

By intensive research, new Nickel alloys were developed for specific uses. A corps of engineers was employed to demonstrate to peacetime industries throughout the world the superiority of Nickel alloys for scores of uses.

Step by step, new markets were built up. By 1926 the demand for Canadian Nickel had increased to such an extent that work was commenced on the construction of great new plants in Canada.

Between 1926 and 1930 the Canadian Nickel industry paid out fifty millions of dollars for Canadian labor and materials. Expansion has continued up to the present.

Today Canadian Nickel is again devoted to war purposes and again the industry looks to the future with confidence. Plans are ready to develop and expand old and new peacetime markets, so that the Nickel industry may continue, through its own initiative and enterprise, to make still greater contributions to Canada's welfare.

Everybody Busy

Figures given out in parliament throw light on the employment situation in Edmonton. Out of 1147 employees who were laid off at the Aircraft Repair plant in the city, 73 secured jobs in a car and foundry plant at Ft. William, 450 obtained high priority work in this area, and 220 joined the fighting forces. Of the remaining 374, some were farmers who went back to their farms, some women who are awaiting satisfactory placement by the Selective Service office. The office had 3,750 unfilled jobs on the roll, but it is not known whether the former women employees of the Aircraft Repair plant were included.

The quick absorption of the labor released from this plant, with 3,750 vacancies still available for others, strikingly illustrates that employment conditions existing in this city are fully as good as over the rest of the country. It is not known how readily people change from one job to another, even a different kind of job, when no longer required in the former place of employment.

Now or Never

Herr Hitler's newspaper, the Volkischer Beobachter, rightly observes that success for the Allied invasion would "simply mean the end." Perhaps the observation was hurled out from the German side as a warning of the end of the world as we know it. It is a warning of the end of the world as we know it, but it is also a warning of the end of the world as we know it. It is a warning of the end of the world as we know it, but it is also a warning of the end of the world as we know it. It is a warning of the end of the world as we know it, but it is also a warning of the end of the world as we know it.

In what circumstances Herr Hitler would call the invasion a success is left to surmise. It is as yet only in the opening stages. Our forces have gained a large and well situated beachhead, which they are proceeding to expand. The next large objective is to establish control over a broad area of deep coastal area having good harbors, where an army of a million or more men can be based, supplied with reinforcements and equipment as needed, and made ready for the big offensive against the Japanese. This in itself will not constitute success for the invasion. But it will open the way and is a necessary first step toward the final victory. It is a necessary first step toward the final victory. It is a necessary first step toward the final victory.

That perhaps what the Fuehrer's newspaper was hinting at when it admonished Rundstedt's forces to grow the war, is that they must block the invaders or "the end" will be in sight.

Make the "Floor" Price Real

The Dominion Government proposes to put a "floor" under the prices of farm products for after-war years. It is expected to be introduced at the present session of parliament. But to pass such legislation will not of itself guarantee the farmer a living.

If a farmer has a thousand bushels of wheat in the granary but there are no buyers in sight it is of no good to him. He must get the price that he needs to support his family and keep the business going with money he couldn't get, however much parliament said he ought to get if he could sell his wheat.

So all along the entire range of major farm products, if a "floor price" is to amount to anything, the grower must be able to sell his product at that price or better at all times.

Hon. Hon. J. G. Gardiner says parliament will also be asked to give the Government authority to buy at the "floor" price if and when buyers for home consumption are not export or foreign market products bought by the Government would be re-sold abroad, or later, at home if it could be done without depressing the market. If so, should be a good thing for the individual producer, would stand in this line.

It is something new in the way of peacetime marketing arrangements. But parliament should not hesitate to grant the necessary authority on that account. The country is not so poor that it must return a poorer return for investment and industry. To guarantee the farmer a standing opportunity to sell his products at a fair price will go a long way toward stabilizing the farm business, and to that end, there is no other way.

Canada's Japanese

Hon. Ian MacKenzie said at Vancouver that he would not remain a member of any government which returned the Japanese to Canada. He said that he would not remain a member of any government which returned the Japanese to Canada. He said that he would not remain a member of any government which returned the Japanese to Canada. He said that he would not remain a member of any government which returned the Japanese to Canada.

This being the case, the people of the other provinces to which the Japanese have been removed, and the people of British Columbia had better make their position on the subject clear. Unless they do so, the inference may be drawn that the migrants are welcome to stay where they now are. In any case, if objections to the Japanese were raised in British Columbia only, a demand for their removal from Canada would not be national in scope.

This is important because some of these unwanted people are Canadian citizens, by birth or naturalization. Under ordinary circumstances Japan would have been ready to refuse to accept these foreigners as immigrants. Unless their removal to the Mikado's dominions is made one of the conditions on which the Japanese are assigned, to ship them to Japan would be as impracticable as to ship them to Australia or China.

The time to develop a national posture regarding the Japs who have been living in Canada, citizens and "nationals", is now. Without a clearly defined national-wide demand for their "sent back" to Japan, which some of them have now seen—Canada might not get much backing from the other Allied nations in asking for their deportation. The peace treaty with Japan is being drawn up. The provisions which British Columbia's former residents are now reading had therefore better make known clearly that they do not want those as permanent residents.

A grocer in Manitoba was convicted of using counterfeit sugar coupons, sentenced to six months and must pay a fine of $500. Evidence showed that he had obtained 900 counterfeit sugar by use of the Japanese coupons. Unless he can get a dollar a pound for the sugar he will be heavily out of pocket on the transaction by the time he gets out of jail. Business cannot be run on this type of attractive, and counterfeit sugar coupons are likely to go out of circulation if any have been used elsewhere.

Berlin is sending out a lot more news of a kind—about the invasion than is coming from the other side. Most of the announcements of course are guesses, thrown out in hope that they will draw some response from which actual information could be obtained. The Allies are not working because Dr. Goebbels long ago made clear that this is his customary type of propaganda finesse. Maybe if they could actually know facts for which that would fool the Allies. They aren't used to the Dr. doing that and don't expect him to do it.

Men From Alberta

Canadian Wounded Eager To Get Back to France

By MARGARET ECKER

AT A CANADIAN GENERAL HOSPITAL IN ENGLAND, June 12.—(CP)—Canadian soldiers wounded on the Normandy shores, whether they are tank corps men, infantry or paratroopers, have one thought in common—when can they get back to France?

"I didn't see much fighting," said Rfm. Oswald Grist, Portage La Prairie, Man. "I only got about 100 yards up on the beach when a mortar caught me."

"I could have cried like a baby after that Jerry got me. There I was at a first aid post when my men passed me."

GAVE GOOD ACCOUNT

This sergeant gave a good account of himself before a German sniper put two bullets in his arm. A British naval doctor operated in mid-chamber to remove the bullets.

Pte. Clifford Hogan, Vinn, Alta., will remember German thrusts every time he sits down for a while.

"What a place to get hit," he said.

"I didn't see much fighting," said Rfm. Oswald Grist, Portage La Prairie, Man. "I only got about 100 yards up on the beach when a mortar caught me."

ALBERTA PARATROOPER

Also at this hospital is Pte. Doug Stewart, an Alberta paratrooper who has his leg in a cast.

Stewart said he landed in the wrong place, probably because of wind drift. He landed in an orchard, clipping one of the trees and then found he didn't have his rifle.

"Maybe the Jerries shot it off me," he said. "The bullets were coming pretty close. I tried to find my rifle and the rest of the fellows. It sure was lonely."

An hour later Stewart found some of his mates, and as they crept up at daylight and some of the boys had captured German trucks and made Stewart drive himself to the beach dressing station.

Edmonton Men See Action With Calgary Tank Unit

By DOUG HOW

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS IN ITALY, June 12.—(CP)—The major said there was nothing spectacular in what his squadron of Calgary Regiment Tanks had done.

Hint 2 Divisions

Flown to France

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP)—

The United States war department, in a statement declaring the European invasion spearheads involved the "greatest employment of airborne forces ever known." Implied Saturday night that the equivalent of two airborne divisions was ferried by air to France early in the Allied assault. The fleet of planes used, the statement said, was "more than three times the total of transports operated by commercial airlines in the United States before the war."

Their job was one that took them across the Rhine river, captured Panzer and Pignatario, shared with the regiment's other squadrons a two-mile advance that took them through the German's Panzer line.

The major, F. N. Ritchie of Montreal, took his first two troops over the river after other squadrons had driven into the German positions, but it was not until the next day that they first took the offensive.

ASSAULT POSITION

Two troops under Lieut. Joe Reed of Cymric, Sask., went in first with a company of infantry to assault a position called Casa Mandrini. The fire from their Sherman caused a high number of casualties.

The same day two other troops co-operated with the Indians in taking Panzer, a village about a mile inland from the river. Under Lieut. William Winterston of Saskatoon and Lieut. Perry Miller of Toronto they moved to positions overlooking the objective, added the fire of their 75 mm guns to the shells brought down by self-propelled artillery, they gave covering fire to the infantry as they crept in.

To the tanks, as usual, fell the task of wiping out machine-gun positions the infantry couldn't handle.

Two days later those tactics were repeated and Pignatario fell. Maj. Ritchie's tanks and support moved to heights commanding the objective, saw artillery rain down about dusk to pound the top parts of the buildings, laced the lower parts with their own wall-piercing shells, laid a smoke screen, and the infantry went in again.

MANY INCIDENTS

There were incidents in those days of action, incidents that took men's lives or incidents like that which happened to Sgt. Vim Morrison, Olds, Alta., and his crew.

From 9:30 a.m. May 13, until 7 o'clock the next evening they stood by with a company of Indians that had suffered casualties. For two hours their tank was the only one supporting the infantry on a height that might be counter-attacked at any moment.

This was near Casa Mandrini. The Germans were firmly established in and around a house. The Indians dug in around another about 75 yards away. Sgt. Morrison's tank and two others that came up took up hill-dunk positions nearby.

They saw a British artillery officer make a reconnaissance of the German position, saw the Indians who went with him mowed down, saw 12 Indians fall wounded or dead before the fire of enemy snipers.

When finally the Indians followed up artillery and tank fire the next day they found the Germans had fled.

EDMONTON MEN

With Sgt. Morrison were Trs. Art Halley, Bonnyville, Alta., Alex Sele, Viking, Alta., and Edward Ivall, Rainy River, Ont. The other two tank crews included Sgt. J. W. Bowler, Edmonton, Trs. G. L. Imbeau, Battleford, Sask., Col. G. P. Chasterton, Calgary, Trs. M. H. McPeak, Saskatoon, G. S. Longwell, Leithbridge, Alta.

Maj. Ritchie's captains, D. F. Baker, Edmonton, and Jack Buchanan, Toronto, fought and directed in all the actions.

Pope Gives Thanks That Rome Spared

ROME, June 12.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII emerged from the Vatican late yesterday to give thanks of the Madonna of Divine Love that Rome had been spared. He drove through Rome to the Jesuit church of Saint Ignatius where the Pope prayed before the painting of the Madonna. Earlier the Pope received more than 3,000 Allied soldiers at an audience and gave them his blessing after addressing them in English and French.

THE A.B.C.'S OF DE INFLATION

Inflation and Deflation... Evil Companions

Past wars have always brought some degree of inflation.
Goods were scarce... Prices and wages sky rocketed to unnatural heights.
Then one day the war stopped . . .
In due time goods became plentiful again

Scarcity prices could no longer be demanded and "spiralling" prices went "pop" and came down with a bang people stopped buying because they thought prices would go still lower

That's why in this war prices are controlled . . . so that they will not ruin buyers in a rise or sellers in a slump.
Price ceilings—wage and salary controls—rationing—Victory Bonds—increased taxation—are all part of a grand strategy to head off inflation—thus preventing Deflation.

PREVENTION OF INFLATION IS THE BEST PROTECTION AGAINST DEFLATION

This advertisement is the eighth of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living and deflation later.

MOVING THE POT OF GOLD TO THIS END OF THE RAINBOW

● One reason for Canada's unexcelled living standard—achieved for you by individual enterprise—is her huge export trade. At this Bank's inception 89 years ago, the country stood practically at the bottom of the export ladder.

Today Canada stands third in exports.

This has been accomplished by a people of vision, initiative and courage, seizing the opportunities afforded by free enterprise. The distant pot of gold has been brought to these thinly populated shores by stout-hearted folk who ventured their all for success. Their enterprise has built many industries that have made a magnificent contribution to the welfare of the whole nation.

Lone Canuck Takes 27 Nazis Prisoner

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, June 12.—(CP)—Cpl. Johnny Tod of St. Vital, Man., is a Royal Canadian Army Service Corps clerk at a brigade headquarters and his job generally involves hammering a typewriter rather than firing a rifle.

But Johnny single-handedly captured 27 Germans in a trench.

Tod was on lone patrol armed with a rifle. He walked down a deep enemy trench and coming around a turn almost bumped into a group of armed Germans. He shouted "Come on up men" as though he had a whole battalion behind him.

The enemy put up their hands and as others came along the trench they did the same. The Canadian corporal disarmed them and marched them into an infantry outfit nearby. Then he went back to the trench and dug out and helped himself.

He came back to headquarters riding a bicycle and pulling a trailer loaded with Lugers, a radio, a camera, a pair of field glasses. In his mouth he had a briar pipe. But Johnny had forgotten his rifle and had to go back for it.

"All through the night when we were being shelled the fellows could see Elston's spade throwing out dirt," said Maj. Clair Smith, Galveston, Tex.

"Every time a shell dropped near he'd dig a little deeper. Next morning three of us had to lift him out. He kinda overdid it."

Report Japanese Open Northward Drive in China

HEADQUARTERS, U.S. 14TH AIR FORCE IN CHINA, June 12.—(AP)—Japanese divisions were reportedly reported yesterday to have opened a northward offensive along the Hankow-Canton railway synchronized with the present southward drive in the Changsha sector.

Maj.-Gen. Claire L. Chennault said the enemy push northward from the coast, combined with the battle for Changsha, brought the Chinese war to its greatest pitch since 1938.

Chennault commented that the Japanese evidently were embarked on the building of a "great wall" along the rail line to protect their home islands and said that this design, if achieved, could prolong the Asiatic war by years.

Deliveries of Coal May Be Curtailed

OTTAWA, June 12.—(CP)—Munitions Minister Howe warned in a statement last night that coal delivery workers are likely to be "very scarce" later this year because "so many men are needed to back up the forces of liberation," and said that unless householders realize the seriousness of the situation and act immediately they may find themselves without coal when the cold weather sets in and unable to get delivery for days or even weeks.

The targets were the Focani airfields which are near the Galati airfield.

Accompanying the bombers on the return trip as he did on the outward flight June 2 was Lt.-Gen. Irvin C. Eaker, commander of the Allied Mediterranean air force. He expressed "gratitude and admiration for the assistance of the Russians in helping establish the new eastern command of the United States Strategic Air Forces in Europe."

Junior Chamber Asks Prevention of Delinquency

PORT ARTHUR, June 12.—(CP)—The Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce last night urged the federal government to "initiate a campaign upon a realistic program of delinquency prevention."

The resolution, adopted at the ninth annual conference, suggested provision be made to reinforce anti-delinquency services, national and local recreational and other leisure-time activities, child-guidance clinics, adult education, improved housing and city planning, and enforcement of laws to curb neglect of children. Public and high school instruction in human relations also was urged.

CANADIAN WEEK

Another resolution requested the Dominion government to institute a Canadian week having as its objective the development of a spirit of national pride in all citizens. United that not grow among the diverse racial elements of the country unless the spirit of a common ideal animates all.

Noting Canada, now has five political parties, a third motion approved the introduction in the Dominion of a system of preferential voting at a point whereby a more democratic expression of the will of the Canadian people may be secured. Under the present system of voting in Dominion elections only a plurality is required to elect a candidate.

Five Groups Petition City For Nursery

Five Edmonton organizations will petition city council Monday night to take further steps to develop nurseries established in the city. They are the Canadian Canadian Unity, Edmonton Council of Social Agencies, Citizens' Volunteer Bureau, Central Committee of War Auxiliaries, and the Labor Progressive Party.

In a report to council concerning day nurseries the commission reports that Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of public health, has formed Mayor John W. Fry that the question of day nurseries has been discussed by the advisory committee established to deal with this matter and a "decision made that neither in Calgary nor Edmonton was there sufficient need shown for the institution of such a nursery, but that if conditions changed the government was prepared to discuss the matter further at a later date."

SEEK TO REBUILD

Another matter to come before council on Monday night will be the application by Messrs. Blouey, Henry Ltd., for a permit to rebuild their premises recently damaged by fire.

The city architect, Maxwell C. Hearn, recommends that permission be given to erect a one-story frame and stucco building over the present foundations.

In his report he states that "I had hoped that following the fire the opportunity presented would have allowed, and that the remains of the present building would be removed and the site made into a parkland, or parking area."

It is pointed out that although the company has purchased another warehouse, it has considerable investment in the damaged building and wishes to erect a one-story structure on top of the basement.

Mr. Dewar said there were two reasons why he recommends granting the permit. The first is that the building at the time of the fire was situated in a third fire zone, and it was in order to build even the simplest form of frame construction in this location. On application by the owner to rebuild, the plans were taken to place the property in the first class fire limits which calls for brick construction.

SECOND REASON

The second reason is that in view of the hillside location, the one-story frame and stucco building would be better than a brick building, as any subsidence would not be as dangerous for a frame structure as it would be for a masonry one.

Council will be asked to consider a supplementary grant to the Edmonton library board of $2,000 to permit payment of wage increases to staff already granted to other civic employees.

A formal resolution will be passed Monday night to enable the city to destroy weeds on private property where the owner has not done so prior to June 30. Cost of such destruction will be charged against the property.

Children Row, Parents Fight: 'Riot' Call Sent

Children's quarrels—otherwise known as "kid-fights"—should not involve parents, two Edmonton families were told about 11:45 p.m. Saturday, by city police who responded to a minor riot call. The children, it was learned, had gotten into a quarrel. The respective parents of the youngsters then got started. Things went from bad to worse until officers were called.

Two Pedestrians Walk Into Autos

Of two women, said by city police to have walked into moving automobiles, Saturday, one was in hospital suffering injuries, while the other, saying she was not hurt, refused to give her name.

Taken to General Hospital, about 10:30 p.m. Saturday, after she had reportedly walked into the left side of an auto driven by Raymond J. Zurbrugg, 10518 99 avenue, at Jasper avenue and 104 street, Mrs. Emphraim, Cote, Plamondon, was found to have received cuts to the face and a fractured wrist.

According to Zurbrugg, he was driving his car on Jasper avenue and was unaware that Mrs. Cote had walked into his car, until she was almost "inside it." In striking the window of the auto, she broke the post shield, he added.

Stopping immediately, he turned to find that the woman had fallen to her knees on the pavement. She was rushed immediately to hospital.

The "second accident occurred at 101 street and 102 avenue about 12:20 p.m. Saturday. L. R. Jackson, Vegreville, was reported as telling police, when a woman who refused to give her name, walked into the right front fender of his auto. Although she fell in the pavement, she said she was uninjured, the informant stated.

corner of a second floor room at 96 avenue and 102 street, about 8:30 a.m. Saturday, was believed by city fire officials to have caused a blaze which resulted in some damage to the floor and walls of the room.

The room was said to be occupied by two girls who had left a short time before, for their work. One line of hose was laid.

Penetrates Foe Lines in France Canuck Tank "Written Off" But Returns After Wild Night Foray Against Germans

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, June 9—(Delayed)—(CP)—They had practically written off the "Honey" tank and its crew when "Shorty" drove it back into camp with only one gun working, the hull scorched by shell blasts.

Tr. J. C. (Shorty) Mackenzie of Cape Noranda, Que., driver of this speedy, reconnaissance tank, climbed from the bow turret, his smoke-begrimed face black as a minstrel's, and told me the story of a wild night foray into the German lines on the perimeter of the beachhead.

"We are away out in front, our Sherman making reconnaissance and we come to a town so we butter down our turrets and bell right through the main street wide open, with Jerry's bouncing grenades off us," he said.

OTHERS IN TANK

With this one-time miner in the tank were Sgt. Harry (Happy) Webb, Welland, Ont., and Wilfred (Big) Miller, Walkerton, Ont., and a sergeant who doesn't want to be named but who fought in tanks for three months in Italy and knows his way around.

"An 88 (millimetre gun) opens up on us so I signalled our Honey around a field. The fourth shot was so close it rocked us and the fifth nearly got us but we bressed off," Mackenzie continued.

"We go down the road and were breezing right along, see, when we run into a Jerry camp. There is a barrier over the road, so I swing Honey around and beats it back, with Jerry's leaping out bushes and heaving grenades at us and smacking us with machine-guns.

They're all around the tank a couple of times and we beat them off with our guns. We're getting bashed about and our guns are going out of action.

"GOT OUTA THAT SPOT."

"It wasn't long before we had only one revolver and one machine-gun left. It got dark, though, and we got outa that tight spot and went off into the fields flat-out, see. I guess we were half a mile or so from the Jerry camp so we decided to bed down alongside the tank for the night. A fellow has gotta sleep occasionally."

"A German patrol found us, though, andARGE challenged the Jerry's but there was no answer so we didn't shoot and they didn't either. A Jerry patrol commander just stood there with his man behind him and looked and then went away."

We thought we were going to get it for sure. Anyway, we got some sleep and when it got light we comes back to our outfit and we got guys surprised to see us show up! That sure was a night."

Man Denies Being False "Alarmist"

Questioned about turning in a false alarm from a fire call-box, about 7:15 p.m. Saturday, an Edmonton man denied having been responsible, according to city police. A woman, said by a witness to have been with the man at the time, was stated to have told authorities she did not see her companion touch the fire-box lever, but admitted she had told him "don't do it", when he pointed at the box.

Firemen who responded to the call, located the man who allegedly sent in the alarm, a short distance from where the box was "pulled." It was understood police action would be taken in the matter. The man was not arrested.

You won't get to Berlin in an Armchair!

If Canada and the United Nations had depended upon "Armchair Soldiers" to fight this war, the Nazis and Japs would have grabbed this country long ago.

There is no "Royal Road" to Berlin. It's fighting all the way and Canada's Army needs every man it can get. That's why, today, you should volunteer for overseas service. You'll need months of intensive training to make you fighting-fit.

Don't be a stay-at-home and let the other fellow do it. Get into a man's uniform with the G.S. badge of honour on your sleeve. If we're going to win this war, we'll have to do more than just read about it in the papers.

So, come on you fellows, the good old army has got to finish the job.
